Calling all adventurers! Have you ever wanted to dance with a siren? Cross wits with a witch? Test your mettle against fabulous beasts most believe belong only in legend? Have we got an event for you!

At the GGASSC, fighters, bards, artisans, and loveable ne'er-do-wells will team up on a Quest to defeat southern monsters and legends such as the Rougarou and the Honey Island Swamp Monster. They will work together to complete fiendish tasks and to solve impossible puzzles set them by the wisest and wiliest legends of them all.

Here's how it works:

- Teams will be made up of a Heavy Fighter, a Rapier Fighter, a Creative-type and a Herald. Teams can be made up of members of any group. Any member of the team can double as the Herald.
- Teams will visit various stations around the site as they pursue their Quest. There they will battle, perform, and cogitate for treasure.
- Audience members can either park themselves at a station or follow their favorite team around to the different Quest stations.
- Best of all, audience members have the ability to help their favorite teams out! Small tasks—and rewards—will be available just for the audience, and those rewards may be kept or given to any adventurer in play.
- At the end of the day, the teams with the most treasure will compete for the grandest prize of all, the title of the very first GGASSC Champions—and maybe something a little extra...
- We will have a Tavern Friday night and Iron Bartender competition Saturday night, so for those over 21, please bring your ID's.
